

Westminster Day of Dance 2014 Programme

May 1, 2014

Here is the day's dancing programme for this year's Westminster Day of Dance – which takes place this year on Saturday May the 10th. London will come alive with the traditional English dance: this year demonstrating the rhythmic clog dancing of the North West, the East Anglian form known as Molly Dancing, and of course the traditional Cotswold Morris.

We've got a couple of interesting new spots, as well as some of our old favourites. And once again we're delighted to be joined by some of our friends from around the UK, and this time even further afield!
